Preface:

Magento 2 Estimated delivery date extension by Mageants is the perfect tool for eCommerce store owners that help to display estimated shipping and delivery date on the product details page. It is an advanced feature that enhances user experience and makes delivery easy for customers with a user-friendly interface. In short, it helps to give your customers the ability to know the estimated delivery date.

- Easy to manage delivery date and time with a user-friendly interface
- The estimated delivery date is displayed the checkout page
- Easy to set up customizable message display
- Restrict days off
- Display default message if estimated date is not set for any product

Key Features:

Help to display estimated delivery dates on multiple pages.

1. Magento 2 estimated delivery date extension can provide the estimated date of arrival and shipping dates on various store pages and transactional emails for a number of pages on your website including:
  - Category Page
  - Product Page
  - Shopping Cart Page
  - Checkout Page
  - Order Confirmation Email
  - Invoice Email
  - Shipment Email
  - Order Management Page in Admin Panel
2. Compatible with Multiple Stores: It helps to save the time of admin time as it's functionalities are very automated. With this admin can create the same rule and apply it to all like multiple stores.
3. Set Estimated Date for Category: With the help of this, you can set estimated shipping and delivery date for category by different options.
4. Exclude Weekends and Holidays: Admin can select weekend days and holidays as well. Holidays can be set as a recurring date, single date or a date range. Easy to add as many as global or local holidays.
5. Delivery days and date configuration: As per need, you can set default delivery date message, delivery holidays and weekdays. By using different types you can set delivery holidays including recurring day, single day and for a specific period.
